

ABOUT THE FIRM 3north is a multi-disciplinary architectural firm with expertise in contemporary design, historic preservation and renovations, interior design and landscape architecture. The firm's high-intensity approach to design is a creative catalyst for new ideas and innovative results.

3north believes that design is a collaborative effort between client and architect. The firm has developed an innovative, successful approach to design called IQ, which stands for Intangible Qualities. 3north's IQ approach, based on authentic and meaningful qualities and characteristics specific to each project, places value on the confluence of intangible and tangible variables — those things both seen and unseen, thereby enriching the design process by revealing themes and concepts that guide project direction and client decisions.

An award-winning design firm, 3north also has been honored as a highly successful business — the result of skilled management and a sophisticated interpretation of client goals and market feasibility. Founded in 1998, the Richmond-based firm serves residential, commercial, hospitality and government clients in North America.
